- Alcohol Duty News From NTIA -

Previous Government administrations, to which the new Prime Minister was a part of, would lead you to believe that they would leave no one behind, and that they are doing everything to support Small Medium Enterprise businesses and independents across the country.

If the New Prime Minister stays his course with regard to an increase in Alcohol duty and further tax increases in the coming budget, we will see thousands of jobs and businesses at risk, a huge proportion of these will be independent hospitality and night time economy businesses.

Saving You From A Fire
- A Cleaning Service -

Did you know one of the most common reasons a fire occurs in a commercial kitchen is via the grease extraction system? Grease, debris and dust builds up in the ductwork which, if not regularly cleaned, will lead to significant issues including leaks, fumes and even catastrophic fires.

Did you know your insurance company will want to ensure you have had your system cleaned regularly (minimum every 12 months) to TR19 specifications to ensure it is compliant. Your insurance company will require a certificate and full report to prove the system was cleaned correctly in order to cover you. If your current cleaning company cannot provide a BESA/ BESCA approved cleaning certificate and a full report including grease readings, system schematics, photo evidence and a full breakdown of the work provided, then your insurance company may not cover you if the worst happens.

Did you know A Cleaning Service offer a free quote and special deals to BARBI members. Call us on 0117 325 9250 or visit our website.

TEMPORARY EVENTS NOTICES

Temporary Event Notices - World Cup early fixtures and Xmas

Some tips on your Temporary Event Notices!

For the World Cup, only 7 of the group stage matches are an early kick off at 10am and most of those might not drag that big a crowd anyway. The only home nation one is Wales v Iran on Friday 25th November and the rest are pretty average games so we'd say you aren't going to need any temporary event notices.

Home Nations games:

Monday 21 Nov : England v Iran, 1pm

Monday 21 Nov : Wales v USA, 7pm

Friday 25 Nov : Wales v Iran, 10am

Friday 25 Nov : England v USA, 7pm

Tuesday 29 Nov : England v Wales, 7pm

You are allowed 20 TENs per year in 2022 and 2023 which can cover across 26 days. The Bristol City Council website for Ten's is sort of up to date - <https://www.bristol.gov.uk/business/licences-and-permits/temporary-event-notices> - but wouldn't be too difficult for them to update it correctly instead of confusing people with the 2019/20/21 info on there.

If you are looking to extend your hours across the Xmas and New Year period bare in mind that one temporary event notice can cover up to 168 hours for the £21 payment. For xmas you might want to look at covering from 15th-20th with later hours, and then 22nd-24th to take up 2 of your allowed TENs covering 9 days.
